

Market Analysis

3rd International Conference on Cell and Genetherapy

Open Access

Clara Williams

University of Manchester, USA

The need for nurse specialists is increasingly becoming integral to the medical teams as more hospitals and healthcare management are using their expertise as a base to assess a patient, develop the nurse care plans that include approaches of personalized care with more caution, expediency, and comfort for the entire treatment and cure. Nurse practitioners experience, improvement in diagnosis and scenario, advanced studies qualify them for the additional duties that are usually left to physicians. Kaiser Family Foundation (KFF) reported that NPs can provide 80%-90% of the total care offered by the primary care physicians offer.

Fortune Business insights state that the Nurse Call Systems The market was valued at USD 1.18 billion in 2018 and is estimated to reach USD 2.78 billion by 2026 and the key factor driving the NCSM is the increased progressions in information and communication technology. Growing at a CAGR of 11.4%, the Nurse Call Systems Market will grow exponentially in the estimate period of 2019 – 2026. Wired Nurse Call System is expected to be the leading segment in the forecast period.

The global Nurse Call Equipment System Market size was valued at USD 870 million in 2016 and is estimated that it will grow at a CAGR of 13.7% over the forecast period. The nursing care market of the US is dominating North America because of the increasing frequency of diseases; North America is dominating Europe causes high healthcare expenditures; Asia will be showing a high growth rate within the next five years.

Contact: Clara Williams ✉ clara.williams@man.ac.uk Lecturer, University of Manchester, USA

Copyrights: Clara W © 2021 The Authors. This is an open access article under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution NonCommercial ShareAli ke 4.0 (<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/4.0/>).